

Brief information about Malte Spitz

Malte Spitz, born in Telgte in 1984, became a member of GRÜNE JUGEND and BÜNDNIS 90/DIE GRÜNEN in 2001. From 2003 onwards he was committee member of the GRÜNE JUGEND federal executive board, during the final phase of the European electoral campaign he was secretary general, an office which he held until 2006, when he was elected member of the BÜNDNIS 90/DIE GRÜNEN federal executive board for the first time. His key topics are the domains of privacy and civil liberties, media and cultural policy as well as economics and demographics. Furthermore, since 2011 he acts as international coordinator. Lastly, he is founder of the initiative „Pro Netzneutralität“, a member of NETZWERK NEUE MEDIEN and CHAOS COMPUTER CLUB. In 2011, Malte decided to publish a detailed account of his movements after a successful law suit against T-Mobile had allowed him access to his records.